Great and Useful Invention.

No more Mortality for want of Water.

Sure wealth to Estancieros

By the Robert Apparatus.

Being notorious the immense injury occasioned by the scarcity of water during the season that affects the camps of Buenos Ayres, I have determined to dedicate to the Estancieros an Apparatus at once simple and infallible for procuring as much water as they may require.

Two hundredweas per hour (it seems fabulous) is procured with my apparatus, without fear of at any time its getting out of order.

This machine is worked by one horse, and in one day's work can give 1240 Bordaleses; that is to say, sufficient water for 20,000 head of cattle.

By these figures can be calculated the immense advantages gained by its use.

Another advantage is the facility of putting it together and taking it to pieces, so as to be able to transport it to any place where it may be required to use it, either for watering purposes or others.

GREAT MODIFICATION.

I have made an improvement in my Apparatus, applying a new system, which reduces the necessary force two-thirds, giving it at the same time more rapidity.

Those interested can see it at Calle Moreno, No. 340 (Hernernda, Paris).

One sole inspection of the Apparatus will prove to them the superiority of it over any other. ROBERT.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1861.

THE ELECTION SCANDAL.

Indescribable are the feelings of every honest man in the country at last Sunday's riots. The temple of the Living God has been outraged, the law of the land set at defiance, the city of Buenos Ayres insulted.

Our indignation is increased when we reflect upon the insignificant cause of the disturbance—the election of a municipal ——. There may possibly be more political influence attached to the office than we suspect. There may be private motives for certain parties to get their friends into the corporation. There may even be a reason for fighting hard to have a fingering in the twenty-five millions of city revenue, but we deny that there is any apology for the authorities in this city having permitted such a scandal.

Readers, at break of day on Sunday morning (as we are informed on good authority) three cartloads of brick-bats were taken to the Merced Church, and carried to the roof; these missiles were handed down to the people's hands by a gang of rowdies who had gained possession of the sacristes. More than twenty persons received dangerous wounds from these ruffians. A horseman rode up to allo Cangallo, between twelve and one o'clock in the middle of the day, and planting a rifle ball in the abdomen of one citizen who was passing by; another villain drew a pistol on a man who was coming out of the Merced Church.

The streets Reconquista and Cangallo were impassible for several hours owing to the crowd, the balconies of the Hotel de la Paix were thronged, and tiffere on the roof of the Merced, for hours and hours, a gang of bassiercbr, chingadores, and we believe serenos, perpetrated a scandal which even the King of Dahomy would be ashamed of. At six o'clock in the evening we visited this hallowed scene of riot, and we thought to ourselves could we but take the ruler of this nation, the sole governor of this city, from his poetic retreat in San Isidro, and place him at the corner of Cangallo and Reconquista, we would give him the most irrefragable proof of the imbecility of his administration. We would show him the pools of water in front of the church dyed scarlet with with the blood of citizens; we would ask him to glance at these piles of brick-bats in the street, on the side walk, and before the church door; we would point to the Merced Church, and ask his Excellency whether it was the temple of the living God or a brothel.

And let in sight of all this we dared to convince him of the scandalous abuse committed by a gang of hirelings in broad daylight, at those polls where the voting in Buenos Ayres is a farce, and electioneering a humbug, we would kneel to Heaven on behalf of his unhappy country and pray to the Almighty to enlighten its rulers.

After the disgraceful scenes which we have recounted, we think it in future elections are to be held at our parish churches, the sooner they are shut up, or converted into cockpits or pulperias the better—the indignity offered our religion last Sunday would be then escaped.

Candidly speaking we know not in what language to pronounce the weight of the Government in permitting such unheard of outrages. Why if the election of a municipal causes such a riot, we suppose at the general elections of Congress men, &c., we may expect barricades in the streets, and murder and rapine through the city.

Had the riots last Sunday been for the purpose of upsetting the Government we could have better understood them.

Had the elections been for senators or deputies we could comprehend it.

But even the rioters been men of standing and position, we could attribute the disturbance to a deep-rooted feeling of animosity against the proposed candidate.

But to see the city suffocended up to a gang of hirelings, to witness the bastardy of, these rowdies on the peaceable and respected citizens who approached the Merced, to behold the authority of the country set at defiance, in broad daylight, to witness all this take place at the very church door, at as it were the very foot of the altar, and all for the election of a municipal, was indeed a scene which we confess we were unprepared for.

President Mitre, every foreigner, every respectable Argentine, every Christian, asks are you the ruler of this country? Are you not a mere walking-letter, far better that the municipal board should be abolished, and elections prohibited, than that we should witness the repetition of Sunday's riots—or mobocracy in Buenos Ayres.

A HINT TO THE PRESIDENT

If there are few spectacles in nature so sublime as that of a people bravely combating for their liberties, against a powerful and vindictive enemy, so also is there nothing more disgusting than to behold a nation eternally wrangling. It is melancholy to be obliged to admit, that the pretexts for the everlasting contentions in this country are of so frivolous a character, but after a patient investigation of all the subjects of Argentine differences, we can arrive at no other conclusion, than that we are pursued by that phantom of equality, which wherever it has existed, has invariably terminated in national dissolution.

Nothing can more strongly demonstrate this sad truth, than the fact that up to this very day the inhabitants of the interior look with jealousy, if not hatred, on Portenos, although the most superficial observer must see that the interests of both are identical.

Again, there is discernible in this city an impatience of restraint, a growing disposition to subjugate the men in power to the rule of a faction, which if allowed to increase, must ultimately end in either national dissolution or iron despotism.

He is but the most hopeless visionary who can suppose that the Argentine Republic can ever, for any lengthened period, be ruled as at present. There is too much license, too little liberty.

We are induced to make these few remarks, owing to the sad contentions which we read of in nearly every Spanish paper printed in this Republic; and though it is difficult to condense our views in the limited columns of a newspaper, we shall attempt to prove that the institutions of this country are incompatible with peace, and that no amelioration of our present condition can be hoped for until the whole machinery of confederation is abolished, and one solid government established in the Plata.

Could we but dive into the secrets of the National Cabinet, we would see that at this moment the Prime Minister is receiving the visits of judges, jefes, and comandantes in the different provinces, that instead of making an appeal to the people to support the present government at the next election, he is consulting with them to secure the assistance of the officials.

Led on by the nose, the victims of this unprincipled change hurry to the urn to cast their ballot in favour of men whom they hardly know, and whose principles they never inquire into.

Recollect that in the city of La Plata is one of the most monstrous tools of a greedy gang of politicians, ever known in this country, a farce indeed. At the elites where the voters are a little more intelligent, the grossest frauds are resorted to and disturbances created, to secure a majority. In the country where not one in a hundred voters knows how to read the ticket which he votes, the judge or other officer summons all the people in the district to the election, like a troop of cattle to the slaughter—yes, to the slaughter; for too often men are elected at these pollings who, by their indiscriminate patriotism, literary fame, have won over the voters to slaughter. Not even the most passionate admirers of these Democratic comicos can attempt to gainsay our remarks, for we speak the truth, and nothing but the truth. If even universal suffrage in those countries were less open to objection, there is an insurmountable difficulty in the division of authority which at present exists, which, whilst it fosters the seeds of disorders, at the same time paralyses the efforts of the National Government to suppress them.

Argentines are enchanted with the idea of self-government, having suffered so long from a sanguinary tyranny; but they have plunged into the opposite extreme. The executive is at present as parcelled out into fractions that obedience to the laws may be commanded, but only with the greatest difficulty on every side enforced. It is not the magistrate of the territory, or the distance to be overcome—it is not the gathering of interests, or the undying animosity of race, which causes this—but it is that with such a multitude of rulers the people hardly know whom to obey, when an order of President Mitre in any province north of Rosario is a dead letter without the sanction of the local Government.

President Mitre is this day rather Dictator of the Argentine Governors than President of the Republic. With the people he is never brought into direct contact. It might be far better for him if on Sunday's riots—or mobocracy in Buenos Ayres.

The sweeping reformations necessary for the proper governing of this nation, cannot be effected at once, but vast seeds for a change can be sown. The elections, upon which the peace of this country so much depends, will shortly be at hand. President Mitre will have to secure a bona fide majority in Congress—if he is anxious to silence all the petty local animosities, which are so distressing to this country. If he is a republican in spirit as in name, let him make a tour through the provinces, show himself to the people, speak with them as to their wants, and prove himself interested in the welfare and prosperity of the inhabitants of even the most distant provinces.

Such a tour by the President, although unprecedented in this country, would we are convinced, be productive of beneficial results. We hope President Mitre has the decision of character and courage to take our advice. We promise him if he does that he will gain a popularity which no other President of the country ever enjoyed, and which will tend to enable him to make administrative changes which every sensible man considers necessary.

WHOLESALE POISONING.

SHOCKING CASE.

On Saturday night one of the most melancholy accidents which for some time has occurred in this city took place in the neighbourhood of the Plaza Lorea.

Two women, a child, a dog and a cat, were poisoned. We hear that it is attributed to strychnine, which we are informed is at present being scattered for the destruction of dogs.

The gentleman who narrated to us this melancholy catastrophe states that although notice was sent to the Police for a doctor, at four o'clock in the afternoon, none could be got before eight o'clock at night.

We trust that Mr. Cazon will have the most searching enquiry made into this matter, and resort to some other less dangerous mode of destroying dogs.

The elder of the females who fell a victim to this dog poison, was a woman well known, and had nursed one of our English merchants. The child we have not received the full particulars concerning the case, but when we do we shall give them to the public. We have also to throwing pieces of meat infected with strychnine into the streets is extremely dangerous, and we hope to see abolished.

SUSPICIOUS DEATH.

On Saturday last the Villa Luzan was thrown into a state of excitement, by the rumour that an Irishman had been strangled. On enquiry our correspondent discovered that the remains of an Irishman named Michael King had been brought into the Villa, and that certain marks were discovered on the neck of the deceased, which induced many to believe that poor King had come to an untimely end. The police who we believe is a serious, good man, immediately on being notified, had the burial stopped and a Doctor to examine the corpse. We have not heard the result of the post mortem yet. Poor King was well-known to his fellow countrymen in the district of Luzan, he formerly kept a small store in town and at the infancy of the Standard acted as agent, subsequently he threw up business and became a sheep farmer. Amongst the natives he was known as Miguel Rey.

We have just been informed that it is probably a gambling wrangle, as King was by a "pucherо" cooked by an old vessel, in which there was probably some copper.

ANOTHER SHIPWRECK.

Loss of an Austrian ship.

News was brought into Montevideo on last Friday by the cruizer, General Prim, of the total wreck of the Palicatrim, close to Capo St. Mary, at a place called los Bajos de Castillos.

The lost vessel is said to be an American vessel, sailing under the Austrian colours, and named Pallestrim, from Boston, bound for Buenos Ayres to Messrs Zimmerman Brand & Co., with a cargo of pine and kerosene oil. Where the wreck lies is the district de Rocha department of Maldonado and about fifteen square from the shore, we understand that all hands on board were saved, but the vessel is a total wreck and the sea makes a clean breach over her.

THE OPERA.

Little might the illustrious public of Buenos Ayres had the opportunity, and, we may say, the pleasure, of witnessing the unrivalled feats of Mons. De Lave.

Such exploits as are assured, have never before been seen in South America. The coolness and the audacity he showed, combined with an astonishing power of equilibrium, make him, if not the first acrobat in the world, decidedly the best that has ever visited those shores. Had Mons. De Lave been a Mahomedan, he would find little difficulty in crossing Al Sirac Arch, and find his way to Paradise. The Prophet never foresaw the appearance in the world of men like Mons. de Lave, for he would have rendered the passage into his Elysian fields a much more serious matter; Monsieur would trip in with the greatest ease, and with the same facility would march out again; and, were he so inclined, bear along with him all the "Houris," by whom the houses of the Faithful are blessed. But what astonished us, beyond conception, was the daring audacity, the presence of mind, and the wonderful agility of Master De Lave. His unassuming and wonderfully intelligent child, worthy scion of a worthy father, surpassed the wildest expectations of the imagination itself. His capital execution of the popular airs of France and England; finishing off with the exhilirating air of "Yankee Doodle," drew upon him the redoubled applause of the audience. Altogether, it was one of the best performances of the kind that has ever been witnessed in Buenos Ayres, and we understand it to be a mere prelude to Monsieur De Lave's forthcoming exploits.

IRISH COLLEGE, LOBOS.

We beg leave to direct marked attention to the report of the late examination held in the Irish College, Lobos, an institution which has already taken a high position, and one that every Irishman in South America should support with pride and feelings of unmixed pleasure. The answering of the students of the first class merits particular attention. Taking into account the range and difficulty of the subjects in which they were tested, it strikes us that such answering, on the part of the Masters Sefton, Tormey, and Kenny, is almost unprecedented.

It is useless, on our part, to say success to this noble institution, for it has, we are happy to find, already achieved it.

The yearly examination of this establishment began on the 10th, and ended on the 16th of December.

The following young gentlemen obtained the marks and distinctions annexed to their names. Marks are awarded to absolute, and not to relative merit. A pupil obtains a first place, not because he is the best in his class, but because his answering is considered first-class.

Hence all in a class may get first places, or none may be entitled to such a distinction. A solus implies a something superior in what is considered the first-class answering. It is to be observed that the students of the first class only were examined in all the branches specified in the subject matter of the examination:—

THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THE EXAMINATION.

N.B.—Those whose answering was not considered in the estimation of the examiner third class were not placed at all, and hence the names of some of the students do not appear at this examination.

ST. DOMINGO.

The real nature of the voluntary submission of St. Domingo to Spain is becoming continually more plain. We need hardly remind our readers that a few months back St. Domingo, the eastern half of the great, rich, and beautiful island of Hayti, was in all respects as independent as Holland, Belgium, or any of the smaller States of Europe. Neither is it less in extent than they. It had formerly been a Spanish colony, but in 1795 was ceded to France under Louis XVI., and at a later period both France and Spain had in all due form acknowledged its independence. Spain, therefore, had no more right to St. Domingo than England has now to New York or Charleston. No doubt it was a Negro State, and in a lower state of civilization than Hayti. But we have yet to learn that no Negro State can ever be admitted into the great Commonwealth of the civilized world, and if so the two States which divided the island of Hayti had been so admitted. Things being in this state, a Spanish man-of-war, some days ago, in the harbour of the capital, and the inhabitants, being assembled together, were told the annexation to Spain, not only of their own town, but of the whole country, which thus became before night a Spanish possession.

But as all this looked, those who, like ourselves, feel the strongest desire for the prosperity of Spain, set themselves to hope, as long as hope was possible, that all was not right. And there was a circumstance which could not fail to increase our anxiety. In the only instance where Spain still holds in the New World, the magnificent island of Cuba, she has always maintained slavery, and although she has at the earnest solicitation of England, abolished the African Slave trade, and has actually received from us a large sum of money in compensation for that abolition, yet the Slave trade, although nominally illegal, has always been actively carried on in Cuba with the connivance at least of the Spanish authorities. The island of Hayti almost touches Cuba, and there was too much reason to believe that the Spanish authorities in Cuba maintaining slavery as a legalized institution, and the slave-trade as one connected in defiance of law in its every might return but once a year to the other's the adjoining island. Then, the Spanish Government, in taking possession, gave to the Negroes every right except their slavery nor the Slave trade should ever be restored in Hayti, and we could only hope for the best.

But, of course, the real question was, and is whether the annexation of St. Domingo to Spain was bona fide or fraudulent. That it was, to say the least, highly suspicious was apparent. A great deal more closely than one could wish the transaction by which Victor Emanuel annexed the states of Italy, and by which Napoleon annexed Savoy and Nice. If it is to be a precedent, why should not a meeting, if it be held in Brussels or Antwerp, meeting, annex Belgium to France? or why that forbids our English Floor to be off Lisbon while a meeting of the citizens lives in England, not Lisbon only, but all Portugal? Then the next step would be that the redisaune of the Belgians or the Portuguese should be published as rebellions against "the Sovereignty which they had only just before accepted by an independent act of their own free will."

It is in these last words that a French pen or quotation the people of St. Domingo for resisting the power of Spain. We

THE ELECTIONS.

A friend of ours, an eye-witness of the elections in Merced Church has furnished us with the following notes. The scandalous fight in the Merced yesterday, which ended in 20 or 30 people being wounded, has shocked a great many. In figures, and words of a poor sample of the civilization of the country, yet I will show you that the rabble is due to blame in the matter as much as the police themselves. This seems strange, but I will give you a few facts which you may judge for yourself.

You remember the last elections when the "Cuadra" got on the roof of the Merced and commenced a shower of bricks on all beneath, native and foreigners. This precedent should have served as a lesson, and nobody allowed to get on the roof; however we can forgive the Chief thus far, but the outrage was renewed by the police, chiefly mulatos, got on the roof of the convent, and commenced bravely to take off the bricks, and make a provision of ammunition. Now the authorities ought not to see it. The leaders of this group, or rather the "gentlemen" who appeared in the Hotel de la Paix, were Don Dore and a brother, a commissary Oliver, a municipal employé, Armero, all appertaining to other parishes, and who consequently had no positive pretext to be there.

As soon as they saw that there was a majority against them, they set up a shower of stones, wounding about 20 people severely, amongst them Dn. Victor Belastegui, a son of Sr. Pelegrini, who was struck by two stones from his revolver, and one of the balls nearly killed the Duke of San Fernando, striking close to him. It is said that the Duke had the use of ample ewo witness from one of the balconies in the Hotel de la Paix, where there were several ladies.

The people underneath began to pull up stones from the pavement in front of Café de Paris, and hurl them about; but the police interfered some, who instead of an ing those on the roof come down, and thus a few the elections to continue, began to beat the people underneath. Now that the row was over, we served properly, being knocked-off his horse and taken away.

In the meantime he was allowed on the roof there might have been a raw, but it would have only lasted five minutes and perhaps not above one or two wounded. Had the police done their duty only done his duty (such a dereliction of which in any other country would cause his instant dismissal) the scandal should not have taken place.

As the case stands at present I believe there was great incapacity or voluntary connivance on the part of the Chief of Police. I rather think the former. These facts speak for themselves, and we can comment. What is the Ruler of this country?

AN EYE-WITNESS.

WOOL MARKET.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE "STANDARD."

Gentlemen.

In looking over the columns of your worthy paper, my attention was called to the article entitled "Serious Complaint."

I was sorry to see that such mistaken ideas were entertained respecting "Barracuero" and their "licenses," and that anyone should, without looking into the affair insert such an erroneous account.

The licences when new do not weigh 3 lbs, but their weight is rapidly increased by the grease and dirt of the wool.

The assertion that licences are washed is so absurd, that it needs no refutation.

If they are washed every morning, I would like to know in what the wool is weighed

That 4 lbs is the tare for each lion's, is a gross misrepresentation and I would refer you to Mr. Duggan, the well known broker for information on this point.

A ROYAL ADVENTURE.—The King of another's mode of arrival in the dominions of his Holiness has furnished another topic of conversation for the lovers of such anecdotes. It appears that his Majesty who is by no means a good sailor, had engaged a steamer of the Valery Company to convey him and his suite to Civita Vecchia, but the stormy weather he encountered obliged the captain to seek refuge in a Corsican port. On resuming the voyage, the sea being still very tough, the King felt so unwell that he insisted on being put on shore as soon as land could be made, and consequently he disembarked with a single aide-de-camp on the flat coast between Corneto and Civita Vecchia, at about nine miles from the latter town, leaving his suite to proceed there with their steamer. On reaching terra firma his Majesty's sea sickness gave way to a wholesome appetite, to satisfy which, however, was not an easy matter on an desolate a coast, especially as at the first osteria he reached the available viands of the establishment, consisting chiefly of eggs, had been previously engaged by another foreign gentleman, who had come so far from Civity Vecchia on a shooting excursion. Nine hot made appeal to his first guest in favour of his two more recently arrived ones, who of course, preserved a strict incognito, and the result was that the omelette was cheerfully shared between the three travellers, the good fellowship originating at the meal being continued along the road, which they pursued on foot, smoking the pipe of friendship, until the bastions of Civita Vecchia were in sight. The King then inquired the sportsman's name to whom he was indebted for his morning meal. The sportsman cheerfully told his name, and inquired in return who it was that had favoured him by sharing his omelette. "I am the King of Bavaria," replied his guest, very simply; and shaking hands with his astounded entertainer, left him to relate his unexpected rencontre to his friends; whilst his Majesty, with his aide-de camp, proceeded to the palace of Monsignore Delegato.

DEATH of Mr. AUSTIN LATHAM

We are unwilling to allow one of our most esteemed friends, one of the most universally respected foreigners in this city, to pass from amongst us with the usual obituary notice. Mr. Austin Latham, after a long and painful illness which he endured with the most Christian resignation, died on last Sunday afternoon at three o'clock aged thirty-four years. We shall but echo the sentiments of the whole British community in the River Plate when we say that his loss will be long felt amongst us. We do not now refer to the private circle of sorrowing friends who enjoyed his acquaintance, but we speak for the whole foreign community of which he was so bright so indepentdent a member.

His death was indeed the "death of the feast." Surrounded by his family, and a few weeping friends, he received the last Sacraments of that Church of which he was so exemplary a member The parting with his loved spouse and each of his little children, was one of the most heart-rending scenes that can be imagined.

Austin Latham has gone from amongst us to another and a better world. We tender to his disconsolate widow and fatherless children the sympathy of the British public of Buenos Ayres.

R.I.P.

LOCAL EVENTS.

The Meuay.—It is rumoured that this steamer will leave for Montevideo this evening. This would seem to indicate that the Oriental troubles are blown over.

Important Auction.—Mr Doria's household furniture is to be sold this day. We are requested to say that, besides the articles mentioned in the Spanish papers, there is also a lady's side-saddle, the very best English make, almost new, to be sold.

Government Camps.—This has been the greatest year ever known for selling Government lands to Irishmen. We are informed, on the very best authority, that over 500 leagues of land have been bought by Irishmen during the season. The average price paid is fifty thousand dollars for what is called the "section," or, in other words, the squatters' right. Men who have heretofore been paying five and six thousand dollars a year rent for one paltry league now a league of land all to themselves for half that money. We are glad to see this, and advise every man who has ten thousand sheep, and is paying an enormous rent for a place to starve them, to sell five hundred and with the proceeds purchase half a league for himself. There is nothing like a man having ground of his own. The dangers of going outside are greatly exaggerated. We know of Irishmen who have nearly a million of paper dollars in the Bank, and still are living on rented land. This appears to us the height of folly. The safest investment in the country is land, it is far safer than the Bank of Buenos Ayres.

General Hornos.—We are sorry to hear that the valiant General Hornos was wounded on Sunday last, at the elections. The villian who attacked the General evidently considered that he was an Argentine Achilles, for he wounded him in the heel.

Amusing Sight.—On Saturday night one of the most amusing sights was witnessed at the corner of Piedad and Reconquista. An English sailor, who had been spending the evening in a few friends, was endeavouring to return home, when coming up at the corner in question he took it into his head to have a row with the sereno. Addressing the bystanders, he asked them to tell the fellow with the lantern to come on. The inebriated tar pulled off his jacket, and then his shirt, and, with nothing but his pantaloons and his boots on, he shouted to the timorous watchman to come on; but the sereno would not come on, and the sailor was too drunk to go to him. The intoxicated pugilist asked for six vigilantes, as "one was to poor, too weak, for his revenge;" but the sereno with the lantern had skedaddled, and no one could be found to fight the sailor. He shouted most stentoriously, and at last, with the assistance of a few charitable persons, made his way down to the beach, where we hear he intended to fight the Captain of the Port, and all his guard along with him.

Dr. Fetter.—Our readers will regret to learn that this distinguished individual is at present an inmate of the hospital, poor fellow. The doctors give it as their opinion that he has overworked himself. It is said that latterly it was almost impossible to get him from his desk, and that he almost exhausted Messrs. Mackey's supply of Seidlitz Dr. —— states that Foster is suffering from a diplomatic inflammation of the liver, with a dash of philosophic affection of the heart.

The Paean.—This steamer, owing to the rough state of the river on Sunday, was unable to postpone her departure until yesterday.

New Insurance Agency.—We notice that Messrs. Rogers, Brothers, of Montevideo, have opened an agency in of that city for the Imperial Fire Insurance Company of London.

Fernandinan.—The steam vessel "Brigadier," which entered on the night of the 27th, was boarded by the Confederate privateer "Georgia," seeking for men of the steamer "Florida," and asking for newspapers. The officer that came on board says that they had boarded a number of vessels, some of which were provided with pratiques. After dismissing the "Brigadier," they sailed in the direction of a frigate which hoved in sight.

Important Arrival.—The well known British barque 'La Zingara' arrived in port yesterday morning, with sixty passengers, all safe and sound, after a splendid voyage of fifty-one days. Captain Saunders, the popular master of this favourite vessel, has not come out in long remaining in England to spend the Christmas. The friends of this popular commodore will be glad to hear that he and his family are in the best of health.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts, and Old Wounds.
No description of a good sore or wound can be given to which this Ointment is not applicable, nor any case of skin disease in which it has not been proved infallible. Its searching power is wonderful, for it will penetrate to the most internal seat of disease, if requisite, and a complete and perfect cure speedily follows in all the following cases:—
Rheumatism, Gout, and Neuralgia.
Nothing has the power of so completely counteract and subdue these painful complaints as the healing power of this Ointment. Its influence is so great that it will penetrate through the most inflamed skin, and by its cooling and soothing properties, allay the heat and irritation, however violent, and however long standing it may be. Its action is mild, yet effectual, and it never fails to give relief. Where the system is deranged, this Ointment should be used in connection with the Pills.
Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey, Mumps, and all other Derangements of the Throat.
On the appearance of any of these complaints, this Ointment should be well rubbed on and well rubbed in twice a day, and a piece of flannel, dipped in hot water, and wrung out, should be applied round the throat, and renewed as often as it becomes cool. This will soothe the inflammation and relieve the swelling. The worst cases will yield to this treatment if the printed directions are strictly followed.
Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—
Bad Breasts, Chilblains, Coco's-foot, Chigoes, Corns, Contracted Cancers, Chapped Hands, Cancerous Humours, Coco-bay Itch, Elephantiasis, Fistulas, Fluxes, Glandular Swellings, Gout, Piles, Rheumatism, Ringworms, Scalds, Sore Heads, Sore Legs, Sore Throats, Skin Diseases, Scurvy, Tumours, Ulcers, Wounds, Yaws.
Manufactured only at Professor Holloway's Establishment, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar), London, and by all respectable Vendors of Medicines throughout the civilized world.
Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot.
N.B.—Direction to the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot.

The want has long been felt of an establishment wherein the frugal and laborious citizen might deposit his savings, so as to make no risk, and reap at the same time a good return.

This institution is calculated to answer such a purpose extending the benefits of the establishment to even the humblest classes.

Public attention is, therefore, especially called to the manner of subscriptions, and the investion of funds, according to the rules of the association.

The PREVISORA ARGENTINA will receive subscriptions as follows:

1st. On each note, like, in shares of $5 silver each. These subscriptions liquidated at any time, at the subscriber's sum and option.

2nd. Without loss of capital by death of the insurer. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and the proportional interest forfeited by the death of other shareholders in their Class, whose capital, however is returned.

3rd. With loss of capital and interest by insurer's death. All shareholders of this class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportional part of the capital and interest of all who die in their Class.

All these subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly.

The capital of the Company shall be invested only in landed property (fincas), and with the greatest security.

The Board of Inspection, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the operations of the Company.

Further particulars apply at the Calle office 87 calle S. Martin (altos) between the hours of 11—4; prospectuses given on application. n17

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA & C°.

— No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great metropolitans of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that we have no very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of sickness or old age instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Sun of Mauá and Co. are alike personal and that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Mauá & Co.
WILLIAM LISLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent (6 p$) per annum which is liquidated every six months

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor is at liberty to open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

The simplest method is bathing the animal, whether sound or affected, in the manner prescribed by the instructions.

The Specific has been already found an effectual remedy for Insects (Garrapatas).

Numerous certificates may be seen showing the high reputa of the Specific throughout S. America. Its low price places it within the reach of all, 250 g sufficing for 400 or 1000 Sheep. It contains no poisonous quality, and is sold at the above Depots.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,

CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS.

Don—Mr. Pongerard, of the London University College.

"An Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact representation of an English School, and offers a sound commercial education combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils. The system pursued on the whole of the other European institutions of the same.

As the unremitted and constant superintendence, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee for the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The following branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the—English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra masters, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing are also taught by special masters.

The Establishment of the English Grammar School, is one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga de Barracas, at a few minutes drive of the city, is one of the most beautiful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.
